

Healed from tinnitus – Jane’s story (interviewed by Wendy Mann)

Wendy: Jane, I know you had a problem with your ears. Can you tell us about this and how it affected you?

Jane: A couple of months ago I began to have a continuous banging in my left ear and it was getting worse every day, so I went and saw my GP, who referred me to a consultant and I was diagnosed with tinnitus. I was told there was no treatment or cure and felt very distressed as I was having a lot of headaches, I could have no quiet time, I was struggling to get to sleep at night and was waking before 5 a.m.

Wendy: That sounds horrible. I know that a couple of weeks ago you got some prayer here.

Jane: Yes, I got chatting to Mike Green after the service one Sunday and he told me he also has tinnitus, and offered to pray for me. I didn’t feel any different when he prayed for me, but when I got into bed that night, I realised it had completely stopped. I began thanking God and praising him for healing me.

Wendy: And how are your ears now?

Jane: Absolutely fine, there is no problem. They are completely healed!
