

My Kingdom Core Values

Phil Wilthew September 2015

Victory: I will not embrace a worldview that re-empowers a disempowered devil, for Jesus has already won the victory. I live on the offensive, not the defensive. I carry the Kingdom.

Hope: I will embrace a worldview of hope that confidently expects good things to happen, for Jesus Kingdom always brings promise, favour and destiny to those on whom it comes. I believe the last days are days of promise, not judgment – I will therefore seek to be a purveyor of hope and not condemnation.

Legacy: I will embrace a worldview of heritage and legacy and will not tolerate any mindset that undermines my believing for a positive future for my children and grandchildren, for Jesus has empowered me to perpetuate His victory on the earth.

Restoration: I will embrace a worldview of restoration for ruined cities, cultures and environments, because Jesus Kingdom will have dominion over all the earth. I will not limit my perspective to individual lives only, but to the fate of the planet itself for God has called me to make disciples of all nations.

Goodness: I will not embrace a worldview or eschatology that undermines the absolute nature of the goodness of God, for Jesus has demonstrated what true love and goodness really looks like.

Celebration: I will embrace a worldview of celebration and thankfulness and refuse to allow the pessimistic spirit of the age to steer my heart or joy, for Jesus has already secured both! I will feed myself on good news, because what I behold I will become.

Responsibility: I will take responsibility for my generation and believe God for his promises in my day, for Jesus has ushered the future into the present. I will not push the promises of God into a time zone that can't be obtained in my generation and therefore takes away any responsibility I have to believe God for them in my lifetime.

Mystery: I will allow room for mystery in my life, because the Kingdom has not yet fully come. I realise that what I don't know can undermine what I do know, so I will choose to focus on the things revealed rather than the things concealed, because I know that God works out all things for my good. I will allow mystery to lead me to worship and not withdrawal, for God is my ever present help.
